Tar and Gob

The spirit of friendship and good will that has characterized the relations between the British Empire and the United States here is dramatically typified by the American sailor, one of many who brought some over-age destroyers to eastern Canadian ports, and the Royal Naval rating who has come from his own country to help man the ships during their voyage to the United Kingdom. They are shown above on the stern of a U.S. destroyer. Royal Canadian Navy photograph—Passed by censor.

This U.S. Secret for British Only

The intricate mechanism of the gun on one of the over-age U.S. destroyers being turned over to the Royal Navy is here being explained to a Royal Navy rating by one of the American sailors who manned the destroyers during their transit from the United States to eastern Canadian ports. The mechanism is of a new secret type and the official censor has decided that Herr Hitler should know nothing about it so he cut it out of the picture. Royal Canadian Navy official photograph—Passed by censor.

No Gap in Raids on Nazis

R.A.F. Blasts Berlin, Barges

LONDON (CP)—Britain struck repeated blows at Germany today to ward off the imminent invasion attempt, aiming blasting air attacks at points in the heart of Berlin and the Tempelhof air-drome, one of the largest in Europe.

Two German convoys were attacked by British bombers off the French coast yesterday while other squadrons attacked barge concentrations and docks and shipping in widespread raids on German-held territory, the Air Ministry announced today.

Planes of the coastal command sank one supply ship off Dunkerque and hit another, the ministry said. A third was seriously damaged off Cap Gris Nez, France.

Light naval forces, aided by coastal rifles as well as bombers, also were disclosed to have harassed at Germany "invasion ports" on the continent.

Pilots Report Much Damage Done

The Air Ministry's communique said: "Berlin was raided against last night by aircraft of the bomber command. Heavy damage was inflicted on a railway station in the heart of the German capital.

"The Berlin raiders arrived over the city soon after 11.30 p.m. and within three minutes of midnight the first bombs were falling on the city. A large railway yard south of the Potsdam Station was straddled by a stick of heavy calibre bombs, followed by a salvo of incendiary bombs.

"At five minutes past midnight another raid, evading searchlights and the anti-aircraft barrage curtaining the city, attacked the Anhalter station near the Potsdam station. In a series of runs over the target

Lightning Strikes City

Woman Knocked Out Gathering Washing

Victoria's second lightning storm within 12 hours struck the city during the noon hour today. Several persons narrowly escaped serious injury, others groped in the darkness when electric light failed momentarily, and great numbers were drenched by the cloudburst which washed the city for half an hour. Officials at the Gonzales Observatory say half an inch of rain fell in that brief period.

Mrs. Frank Barera, 832 Ellery Street, rushed to save her washing from the rain. She touched the steel clothesline when the lightning struck. The electricity blistered her finger and ran up her arm and knocked her to the porch unconscious. She was revived by her daughter and an hour afterwards said her arm felt like pins and needles.

The home of J. Rainey, 2739 Fifth Street, was struck by lightning. The radio was blown to pieces. Four windows were blown out in the front of the house. Electric wires and the meter were damaged and the walls of the front room and the chesterfield were scorched.

Preceded by darkness, almost like night, the storm struck suddenly with great flashes of lightning, followed by deafening thunderclaps, which were much closer than those of last night. In a few minutes the business streets were running with water. City workmen were out quickly to clear away clogged drains.

Street cars were stalled for a few minutes and lights flickered, but were out only a few seconds. Elevators in some buildings stopped.

Noontime crowds, caught without rubbers and umbrellas, fled to shelter, crowding doorways and building entrances. Others rushed through the running water for street cars and restaurants.

The Court of Appeal worked to the luncheon adjournment through the roll of thunder and rain.

Final Bulletins

Defence Board Will Meet Here Tuesday

Members of the joint Canada-United States Defence Board will next week inspect naval and military bases on the Pacific coast of the two countries.

The Canadian members, Capt. L. W. Murray of the Navy, Brigadier K. Stuart of the Army, and Air Commodore Cuffe of the Air Force will assemble here next Tuesday and will be joined later in the day by the American members—Capt. Harry Hill, Commander Forrest P. Sherman and Lieut.-Col. J. T. McNarney.

Italy Expects Attack

CAIRO (AP)—Italy's Marshal Graziani has rushed fresh troops from the interior of Libya and massed them near Bardia, 30 miles from the Egyptian frontier, British scouts reported tonight. They took the movements as a definite indication Italy has decided to make the long-awaited thrust into Egypt.

Explosions Kill 11

DOVER, N.J. (AP)—Eleven persons, all presumably plant employees, are known dead as a result of the explosions at the Hercules Powder Company's Kenilworth, N.J., plant, a company spokesman reported late today at Wilmington, Del. (See story on page 2.)

The spokesman said the fatality figures had been revised upward from one after reports from company officials.

No Bug Warriors

LONDON (CP)—Authoritative circles tonight said there was not a word of truth in a German story that British fliers were throwing bags of Colorado potato beetles into fields of Germany, Luxembourg and Belgium in an effort to lay waste the major food source of those Nazi-held countries. The enemy propagandists said the bugs multiplied rapidly and were hard to control.

2 for Mayor's Post

VANCOUVER (CP)—Alderman J. W. Cornett, long prominent in Vancouver's civic affairs, announced today he will oppose Mayor Lyle Telford for the mayoralty in the forthcoming civic election December 11. Dr. Telford is the only other candidate so far.

Soldier To Be Hanged

GUELPH, Ont. (CP)—Pte. William Moulton, 32-year-old London, Ont., member of the Perth Regiment, C.A.S.F., this afternoon was convicted of murdering a fellow member of the regiment, Pte. Arthur Phillips, 28, of Carleton Place, Ont., in a military camp at Niagara Falls last July 14. He was sentenced to be hanged November 19.

Tremendous Encouragement

We're Getting Results Says Defence Head

"What has impressed me most is the type of men leaving good posts in civilian life to go into the ranks. Just today I have talked to a contractor, a bank man and an accountant. It is a tremendous inspiration and encouragement."

The speaker was Col. the Hon. James L. Ralston, K.C., the man Canada called out of retirement from politics to take over part of the gigantic task of mobilizing the country for war. As Minister of Defence he is in Victoria today on a 5,000-mile flight of inspection.

Friendly, humorous, and his hat cocked at a jaunty angle despite his reputation as a serious and methodical administrator, the Defence Minister was up early to make an arduous tour of Victoria's military establishments.

With Brigadier C. V. Stockwell, D.O.C., Col. A. A. Magee, senior executive assistant to the minister; Col. J. K. Lawson, director of military training, and Major Thomas Wayling, press liaison officer, he set off at 8.30 from the Empress Hotel.

First he went to see the big guns that guard the straits from Mary Hill and Albert Head; then a run through the establishment at Galt Hill on the way back to town to speak to the Canadian and Rotary Clubs.

This afternoon he had four calls on his agenda. First to the 1st Battalion Canadian Scottish, and a detachment of the Irish Fusiliers, C.A.S.F., at Work Point; then to the 2nd Battalion, Canadian Scottish, and 13th Field

MANUEL CAMACHO NEW MEXICO CHIEF

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Chamber of Deputies today proclaimed Manuel Avila Camacho President-elect of Mexico, ruling he had been successful in the disputed election of July 7.

Thus the chamber formally recorded the defeat of Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan, opposition candidate for the presidency, whose "election" for the 1940-45 term had been proclaimed by a "congress" of his own followers. Avila Camacho had the support of the Cardenas administration.

Supplies for Nazis?

MOSCOW (AP)—The newspaper Pravda reported today quantities of oil and grain were passing along Soviet Russia's inland waterways from the Black Sea to the German border. Four tankers proceeded up the Dnieper River via Kiev Canal en route to the western city of Brest. Following them were three grain ships and two other oil tankers in tow.

Proclamation For Draftees

Several hundred men in Victoria and district will receive their notice shortly that they must take 30 days' military training.

In Ottawa today it was announced a proclamation advising all Canada's single men and widowers of 21 to 24 years inclusive that they are liable for calling up will be issued probably late today or tomorrow.

The actual call to training will follow this proclamation according to a previous announcement, the plan is to call 40,000 men, single or childless widowers of 21 years, to get the first batch of 29,750 men to undergo compulsory training starting about October 9.

The announcement today was made by Maj.-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, associate Deputy Minister of National War Services, on behalf of his minister, Hon. J. G. Gardiner.

ALL DOCTORS TO ACT

Gen. LaFleche announced all medical practitioners in Canada, approximately 10,500, had been appointed examining physicians under the national war services regulations to examine men called for training.

This, he said, had been done so men called would be able to get their physical examination without having to travel away from their homes. The physicians will receive a fee of $1 for each examination, paid by the government.

Each man will be advised individually by registered letter and the notice will require the man to present himself for physical examination to the practicing physician of his choice within three days of delivery of his notice.

It is not proposed to call for training at present any man whose examination discloses him as in category lower than C1. Class C2 embraces men able to stand work of a sedentary nature—clerks, batmen, cooks, orderlies and storemen.

Agricultural workers will not be called for the first training period and arrangements will be made so other essential industries are not unduly interrupted by men being called away for training.

Belgian Ship Sunk

NEW YORK (AP)—The steamship Ville de Mons, 7,430 tons, formerly the American Shipper of the United States Lines, was torpedoed and sunk off the British Isles.

The United States Lines, which made the announcement this afternoon, said she is the fifth vessel lost of the eight ships sold by the Lines last February to a Belgian company.

Another Great Night Barrage

London Again Fights Raiders

LONDON (CP)—A mighty new anti-aircraft barrage burst over London tonight in angry challenge to the Germans' sixth consecutive heavy night attack on the capital.

German bombers were high over the city as the new assault began.

The guns opened up first over the Thames estuary, the waterway to London. Then, as the raiders closed in, the heavy barrage which scattered the invaders the night before broke out, leaving a circle of fire about the entire metropolitan area.

The night's alarm came at 9.11 p.m. after a day of uneasy respite for the city, during which the sirens had shrieked but once, and that for only a short and apparently harmless enemy visit.

London was lashed by a squally rain, and the heavy clouds were freighted instantly with yet another peril for the Nazis—bursting shells that formed a great arc all across the face of the city.

Scouting Planes Sent in Daylight

A reconnaissance raid by German scouting planes was the first to shatter London's quiet today following a night in which British anti-aircraft guns hammered the sky with the heaviest aerial warfare in the history of aerial warfare. The planes came over at the usual time in the late afternoon—between 4.30 and 6 p.m.—and buzzed over the city. There was no sound of exploding bombs.

They could be seen high in the sky as they approached. The capital's anti-aircraft guns opened up at once.

Military authorities believe these late afternoon raiders are sent to photograph damage done and reconnoitre targets for coming night forays.

Night Success Of Ack-Acks Praised

Citizens in general today hailed as a great victory the repelling of last night's attack on London, which apparently was attempted by the greatest number of planes yet sent against the city.

Military circles described the new barrage, which came as a surprise to the enemy, as based on new methods of prediction of the flight of planes.

A delayed action bomb exploded today with a terrific roar heard over a wide area of London. Property on either side of the central London thoroughfare where the bomb had lain was badly damaged and the street was blocked with debris.

Powder Explosions Spread Death

Blasts Fill New Jersey Hospitals

DOVER, N.J. (AP)—Two terrific explosions in quick succession this afternoon at the Hercules Powder Company's plant at Kenil, near here, killed an undetermined number of persons, injured at least 200, and started fires that caused eight lesser blasts.

The first explosion shook houses, shattered windows in nearby communities and was felt more than 100 miles away.

State police reported they saw eight or 10 bodies hauled out of the plant ruins.

Scores of ambulances and police cars took the injured to hospitals in Dover, Newton, Morristown, Newark and Montclair.

The Dover Hospital was filled to capacity with the first injured.

to be taken from the scene of the explosions.

The fires handicapped rescue efforts. Two buildings containing dynamite were in the path of flames.

Kenil is 30 miles southwest of the New York City metropolitan area.

The plant employed about 1,500 persons.

A plant official said the first explosion occurred in the solvent recovery house of the smokeless powder plant. The recovery house was built at a cost of $500,000 to handle national defense orders.

Losses Believed Over $2,000,000

Early estimates placed the total damage at more than $2,000,000.

Dover hospital attendants said all available doctors, nurses and ambulances had been called out. States police officials sent 25 troopers to the scene.

The explosions were heard all through Westchester County, just above New York City, and some 50 miles from where the blasts occurred.

Telephone switchboards were swamped with calls from persons who heard the explosions and felt the earth tremble.

Even in Poughkeepsie there were persons who felt earth tremors between 12:35 p.m. and 12:39 p.m., E.S.T.

Windows were knocked out of a train at Harman, N.Y., and plaster fell from walls at Tarrytown.

Some Report 5 Blasts Heard

The New York state police barracks at Hawthorne said they had heard five blasts, and reports of pictures being knocked from walls had reached them from Poughkeepsie.

The shocks were so great they were registered on the seismograph at Fordham University in New York. Fordham said the first shock was at 11:08 a.m., E.S.T., a second at 12:29 p.m. The instruments indicated they were underground blasts, rather than earthquakes.

Naval officials in New York began an immediate investigation of the explosion because the Hercules plant is near the Pictinny naval arsenal.

R.A.F. Scores Again in Libya

CAIRO (AP)—A communique issued here today said:

"In the course of a series of raids on objectives in eastern Libya yesterday, Royal Air Force bombers attacked Amseet, just over the Egyptian border, where four fires were started, the Derna landing ground, where bombs fell among aircraft, and Bardia, where several fires were started.

"Two large fires broke out on jetties in Derna harbor.

"Enemy bombers again attempted to bomb Mersa Matruh yesterday, but were intercepted by our fighters and suffered a heavy proportion of casualties.

"Four S.79's (Italian tri-motored bombers) were shot down at sea and destroyed.

"On September 9, South African air force bombers raided Sciamanna, in central Ethiopia, and one Savoia aircraft on the ground was burned out and four others extensively damaged."

The War Today

By GUY RHODES

BUFFALOED

Britain tossed up an anti-aircraft barrage that appeared to have Nazi raiders buffaloeed while coastal troops steered themselves to resist an expected invasion attempt.

Some new type of predictor was believed responsible for growth of accuracy in anti-aircraft fire, while sharp-eared Londoners, after the noisiest night of their lives, said anti-aircraft fire packed more punch than heretofore. Individual shots appeared louder and the volume of fire was terrific, throwing a virtual screen of steel around London. Only 20 bombs explosions were heard.

GRUBBERS

However, around St. Paul's Cathedral, Sir Christopher Wren's crowning achievement and one of the world's most beautiful architectural works, men who love their city more than life grubbed in the ground for a buried delayed-action bomb.

Police kept crowds of onlookers back, roped off streets and diverted traffic between the old and the new city while workers grimly searched the cathedral grounds for the bomb that might explode at any moment today, tomorrow, a week hence, or never.

CURSED

Foot passengers walking up Ludgate Hill paused at the barricades and cursed the Germans as they heard their favorite landmark was in danger. Thousands have seen it every morning on their way to work and on their way home. It is a source of constant pleasure to those who wander down Fleet Street—from the tourist going to the Cheshire Cheese to sit at Dr. Johnson's old table to the newspaperman going to work or over to Falstaff's for lunch.

Throughout the whole district surrounding the famous cathedral many beautiful small churches, experiments in design that led Wren to build St. Paul's, are endangered by Germany's bombing, while military objectives are practically nil. Such military targets as there are consist of warehouses which already have been hit. The famous Billingsgate fish market is nearby, Smithfield meat market about a quarter of a mile north.

HOPEFUL

Britain's interest was centred mainly, though, on the new attack technique and Londoners who have had little sleep for the last five days began to hope the Germans might become discouraged in their raids.

Britons generally were unafraid of a German invasion attempt. They felt certain it is coming sooner or later, and probably not later than a few days, while the weather and the tides favor such an adventure. The south coast's high tides for the next few days would enable landing parties to approach the shore a quarter of a mile closer than they could at any other time of the year.

Air raids, artillery action across the channel, reports of large concentrations along the French coast and steamship concentrations in Norway have just about convinced authorities that the invasion is coming.

The last time such an attempt succeeded was 874 years ago, when William the Conqueror came ashore and defeated Harold at Hastings.

Haven for Carol

LISBON (AP)—The Portuguese government has granted former King Carol of Rumania permission to reside in this country on condition he abstains from any political activity. It was disclosed today. Carol, who left Switzerland Tuesday night with Mme. Magda Lupescu, is expected to arrive tomorrow.

Col. Goodeve Named To Atlantic Army

OTTAWA (CP)—Choice of Halifax for headquarters of the new Atlantic army command was made known by the National Defence Department today in announcing appointment of Col. L. C. Goodeve, D.S.O., director of organization at defence headquarters here, as colonel on the general staff of the new command.

Defence Minister J. L. Ralston recently announced appointment of Maj. Gen. W. H. P. Elkins, former master-general of ordnance, to head the new Atlantic command.

Col. Goodeve, a native of Montreal, is a graduate of the Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont., and the Staff College at Camberley, England. He was a veteran of the Great War and had experience as general staff officer in Military District No. 11, Victoria, B.C., and was general staff officer at the War Office, London, Eng., from April, 1927, to April, 1929.

As director of organization at defence headquarters, Col. Goodeve will be succeeded by Lieut. Col. A. E. Nash, M.C., promoted to the rank of colonel.

United Church Favors Bargaining

WINNIPEG (CP)—The United Church of Canada "believes that the war emergency should not be used, by either capital or labor, for the advancement of their respective interests," said a report presented today to the Ninth General Council of the church meeting in Augustine Church here.

The report, prepared by a committee of economic and social research, urged the church to support all reasonable and constructive efforts to obtain federal and provincial legislation for improvement of collective bargaining procedures.

It said the United Church should not put undue confidence in statutory law as a means by which the working man may improve his lot. "It is clear there are marked limits to the creative force of statutory law when a people's customs are to be changed," the report added.

"In the United States reliance has been placed upon legislation, namely, the Wagner Act, to stabilize relations between workers and employers, whereas in Great Britain the principles of collective bargaining had a slow but sure growth more by education than by legislation, and now rest firmly upon custom. It is the belief of this commission that unless the principle of collective bargaining is accepted by employers and the public in general, legislation to make it compulsory will be of limited value.

MINISTERS NEEDED

Another report disclosed that between 46 and 55 more ministers than now appeared in sight from the theological colleges were needed by the church this year.

B.C. Health Officials Back From Studies

Dr. John Leroux and Dr. W. Craig Mooney have returned to their duties with the Provincial Department of Health after a year's graduate work in venereal disease control in eastern Canada and the United States.

Through the Rockefeller Foundation, the doctors studied in Toronto, Montreal and large eastern United States cities and received diplomas of Public Health. They will work under Dr. D. H. Williams in Vancouver.

Also returning from eastern Canada and the United States after a year's study, Miss Heather Kilpatrick has been appointed director of public health and nursing under Dr. G. F. Amyot, Provincial Medical Health Officer. Miss Kilpatrick, who was awarded a fellowship in public health nursing and administration by the Rockefeller Foundation, will co-ordinate the work of 90 public health nurses with the aim of avoiding duplication of work.

Canada's Apple Crop Will Be Lower

MONTREAL (CP)—A decline of more than 30 per cent in the Canadian apple crop this year is estimated in reports received by the Quebec Pomological and Fruit Growing Society.

The society reports British Columbia is expected to show only a small decrease in production, but output in the Maritime Provinces, Quebec and Ontario will range from 32 to 40 per cent lower.

MADRID (AP)—Minister of government Ramon Serrano Suner was en route to Berlin today at the invitation of the German government for conferences with Nazi leaders to which Madrid political circles attach the highest importance.

British Watch Tides For Hitler's Gamble

LONDON (CP)—The moon and tide will be in Hitler's favor for several days running next week if he should try to invade Britain.

Authoritative sources, basing their predictions on the nautical almanac, said the highest tide for the period is scheduled for 1:03 p.m., Wednesday, September 18, induced by a full moon Monday. Wednesday's high tide at Dover is expected to reach 18 feet, six inches, compared with a low of 14 feet.

A four-foot margin, these sources remarked, "makes an awful lot of difference." It would, for example, enable some boats to get perhaps a quarter mile closer to shore.

London Standard Jibes at Nazis

LONDON (CP)—Blasted by a German bomb explosion, Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard quickly appeared on the streets today and jibed at the Nazi attack.

Prominently displayed was a four-column cartoon by the newspaper's noted caricaturist, David Low, picturing a cockney newsboy crying the Standard as usual alongside a billboard which read: "Bomb severely damaged in Shoe Lane."

The newspaper's offices are in Shoe Lane, just off Fleet Street.

The cartoon pictures Goering and Goebbels carrying "Der Berlin Liar" with flaring headlines "Fleet Street—Bomb—British Press Wiped Out!"—and looking with pained surprise at the London newsboy.

The Daily Herald, whose building also was damaged by a bomb explosion, was published within a few hours of the attack.

Luftwaffe Surprised Over London

Nazi Raiders Checked by New Type Barrage

LONDON (CP) — Londoners went to work today after the noisiest night experienced since the capital was first bombed, while authoritative circles were quietly jubilant over the surprise blitz-barrage which provided a major part of that noise and gave a thundering reception to the Luftwaffe.

German air attacks during the night—the fifth of the present series of raids—were directed mainly against the south end of London and were less effective than any since Saturday, the government said today.

Although the Nazis attacked again and again over a period of nine hours, only about 20 bombs exploded in the centre of the city. The all-clear signal was sounded at 5.35 this morning.

While no one believed the new type barrage constitutes a definite answer to night raiding, these sources asserted it is more than a preventive measure, by which raiders are discouraged by a flaming protective curtain of fire thrown over the capital with the result that many are unable to keep their course and reach targets.

One source, while explaining few planes were brought down by the barrage, added "they are definitely discouraged." A private observer commented: "Out our way Jerry seemed as mad as an angry bull and either dumped his stuff in anger or ran away."

Barrage Sets All-time Record

It is generally agreed it was the most terrific barrage ever thrown up here. Those with good ears thought they sometimes detected a different note in the gunfire, indicative of a new type of Ack-Ack gun.

The comparative absence of searchlights gave rise to the well-founded belief new tactics were employed by the defenders, who previously had held their fire until they saw the "whites of their eyes"—in this case the target in a searchlight beam. Last night gunners let go anywhere, spangling the sky with new, deadly stars—hundreds of bursting shells.

Shrapnel peppered rooftops like a Canadian hailstorm.

Everything from light Bofors guns to the heaviest anti-aircraft artillery joined in, producing an uproar the like of which had never been heard before. So heavy was the firing that it drowned out the sound of bombs.

Some of the raiders were forced to turn back with bombs still in their racks.

The text of today's communiqué follows: "Severe losses were inflicted on the enemy in yesterday's air battles, and the attacks which followed during the night were less effective than any of those since Saturday.

"The London area was again the subject of the majority of the attacks and, although as is his custom, many bombs were scattered at random by the enemy over widely-separated districts in the capital, the main force of his offensive was directed against south London and its suburbs.

"Shortly after darkness fell formations of enemy bombers approached the London area, and these were followed throughout the night by waves of further aircraft. Our anti-aircraft batteries have been constantly in action, and the heavy barrages put up prevented many enemy bombers from reaching their objectives.

"Reports at present available show two bombers were shot down by anti-aircraft fire.

"High explosive and incendiary bombs have started fires and fallen on many buildings. Two hospitals, many houses and some small factories have been hit. A marked feature of the raid was the number of incendiary bombs which were extinguished by air raid wardens before being allowed to develop into fires.

Fewer Casualties Than Previous Raids

"It is not yet possible to give a figure of casualties, and although there were a number of persons killed and injured, it is probable the number is less than on any of the previous four nights.

"Outside the London area enemy activity, though widespread, has been relatively slight. Bombs were dropped in a town in South Wales and in towns in the northwestern area. Some damage has been done in each of these areas, but there the number of casualties is small.

"It is now confirmed that in yesterday's air battle 80 enemy aircraft were shot down by our fighters and nine by anti-aircraft fire. Twenty-four of our fighters are missing, but the pilots of seven of these are safe."

Seven bombs fell about 100 yards from the entrance to a

Jump-off Places Of Nazis Watched

LONDON (CP) — Speculation that Hitler is preparing to launch his threatened invasion attempt brought the terse comment from a high British source that "when ever they come this island fortress is ready for any Nazis able to battle their way ashore."

When the Fuehrer decides to make his biggest gamble it is generally agreed he will try to force a way across the Channel and use Norway as a subsidiary base.

British airmen are keeping an intense watch over all areas from which the thrust might come.

Barge concentrations have been observed at Hamburg, Emden, Dunkerque, Ostend and Boulogne and dealt with accordingly. The fleet air arm has been carrying out offensive reconnaissances over the Norwegian coast.

"The fleet air arm is watching up there," one source, commenting on the disclosure of widespread activity of Skuas—naval dive bombers—attacking oil stores and hutments in Norway.

Some circles regard as a certain sign of German activity in Norway the great lengths the Nazis went to deny that British naval forces sank a troop transport in the Skagerrak September 2. That loss was reported from Sweden, from which country came a report Germans are offering a reward for recovery of equipment from the ship.

Compared with the short crossing of 20 miles in the Channel, it is about 250 miles from the nearest point of Norway to Scotland. The Nazis would need big ships to try a thrust from Norway, but many observers believe they might have to take this chance if a Channel foray should fail—as all British officials are convinced it would.

Some circles regard the Nazi air attacks on London as a diversion to hide invasion preparations.

Hitler Uses Boys To Pilot Planes

MONTREAL (CP) — German pilots 15 years old are taking bombers over England in Hitler's attempted blitzkrieg, according to a letter received here by C. G. Elgie from his father in Essex, England.

The elder Elgie wrote there were five in the crew of a German plane brought down near his home. Three were uninjured, one was slightly hurt and the fifth, the pilot, a boy of 15 years, was dead.

famous London prison, but no damage was reported.

For the first time in five nights the Associated Press building in the centre of the capital was not shaken by bomb explosions, and there was no sign of the usual activity of fire fighting apparatus.

Little night raiding was reported elsewhere in Britain, although a lone German plane dropped four bombs in the industrial Midlands.

Gun Duel Across Channel

Heavy British coastal guns also joined in the bombardment last night, and were attacked in turn by swarms of German dive bombers and long range guns, which made the Dover area tremble under the war's worst shelling.

British planes swept across the Channel in force, and the German guns finally became silent after hours of intermittent shelling. Great columns of black smoke rose from the sea between Calais and Dunkerque.

Newspapers, Tussaud's Damaged By Bombs

The Daily Herald and the Evening Standard newspaper offices in London were damaged in recent air raids, the Ministry of Information announced today.

Madame Tussaud's Waxworks, a museum in which figures of famous characters are on exhibit, also was damaged, the ministry said.

The Press Association said the Standard and the Herald were able to publish within a few hours of the bombing.

MONTREAL (CP) — Sir Evelyn Wrench, founder of the Overseas League, said here he was impressed with the lack of red tape in connection with the Empire Air Training Scheme in Canada.

"I think you have businessmen running the war," the former newspaperman told reporters. "I have visited a number of your flying schools. Throughout, and particularly in Ottawa, I was impressed by the lack of red tape in high office."

Call For Equipment

CANADA'S PURCHASE OF 80,000 RIFLES from the United States has solved for the time being one problem which obviously had been seriously worrying the authorities at Ottawa. These guns were essential for the adequate training of the men now in uniform or about to be called up under the new service regulations.

This purchase emphasizes once again how dependent Canada is for the expansion of her war effort on industrial production. It recalls the old arguments strenuously advanced in this regard in the face of the bitterest and most illogical criticism from that school of thought which persisted in its demand for the immediate drilling of men by the hundreds of thousands. One of our contemporaries quite seriously attempted a month or so ago to show that Canada could have 800,000 men under arms and ready for any fray by the end of this year if the government at Ottawa would only bestir itself. It became almost hysterical in its efforts to prove that an administration of "the best brains of the country" could figuratively produce any size, shape and color of rabbit from almost any hat it might choose to use.

Still the most pressing demand in this country is for more and more equipment. Minister of National Defence Ralston says so and makes no bones about it. We need this equipment for ourselves. Great Britain needs every gun, shell, airplane, tank and all the other supplies Canada can produce and spare. The very condition we suggested months ago might have us sooner or later is now plain for all to understand. Britain's industrial establishments are being bombed daily by Goering's aerial armada. Its attacks will grow in intensity. So far the damage it has occasioned to the productive capacity of Britain's actual war plants does not appear to be serious. We have the Royal Air Force and the anti-aircraft defences to thank for that. But we do not know when the North American continent will be called upon for much greater effort than it is now exerting to supply the island fortress with the paraphernalia for its epic struggle.

Naturally the time will come when the fine body of Canadian soldiers now in training will take their part in the great offensive on continental European soil, just as the divisions in Britain are now in readiness for anything Hitler may introduce from across the North Sea or the English Channel. In the meantime, however, the government must lose no time in using the information contained on the national registration cards. This furnishes the clue to the Dominion's war potentiality in every particular.

A Temptation, But—

RELUCTANT THOUGH MANY WILL BE to agree with the advice, The Times of London is obviously right when it argues that reprisal air raids by the Royal Air Force on Berlin, or any other German cities, merely for the purpose of destroying lives and property will scarcely advance the day of final victory. Rather will it be more profitable for British airmen to adhere rigidly to the systematic campaign against German power which they have followed relentlessly for months, day after day and night after night. And it conceivably might suit the Nazi purpose were the R.A.F. to divert a whole force of bombers and fighters to Berlin to get its revenge against the Nazi capital for what Goering's armada has done and continues to do to London. Hitler knows Britain can do it, of course, and he and his cohorts, as The Times suggests, "may quite probably have calculated upon it." But the men who fly the big machines know a trick worth two of that.

This is an important point, because Mr. Churchill made it clear yesterday that everything indicates elaborate preparations for the invasion of Britain, large concentrations of men and materials in ports and industrial areas furnishing the evidence that spectacular events are not far distant. Nothing would suit Hitler and Goering better than a change in British tactics—a temporary disregard for fundamental battle considerations by succumbing to the temptation to give tit for tat in nonmilitary exchanges. After all, the quickest way to subdue the military might of the axis powers is to concentrate unrelentingly on all the forces and materials on which they depend for their continuance in the fight; and it is the attention the Royal Air Force is giving to various concentrations in Germany and in German-occupied territory which is rattling the Nazi chief.

Australia's Election

WHEN THE VOTERS OF AUSTRALIA go to the polls on September 21 they will be merely clarifying a situation produced by the lack of a working majority of the government's followers in the last Parliament. They will also be dealing with the split in the ranks of the Labor party—another of the factors which emphasized the necessity of a general election—mainly to discover which of the three elements in its organized ranks can command the most authoritative voice. All parties and candidates, of course, emphasize the argument that they represent the maximum determination to carry the Commonwealth's war effort to even greater lengths than the elaborate preparations for its continued expansion obviously guarantee.

Sixty-five candidates have been nominated for 19 Senate seats; 273 for the 75 seats in the House of Representatives. At this stage of the campaign the indications are that the government will have the most difficult fight on its hands for the seats in the Upper Chamber. Under the Australian electoral system the Senate is renewed to the extent of one-half of its 36 members every three years, but in case of a prolonged disagreement with the House of Representatives, it may be adjourned, and an entirely new Senate elected. The lower House consists, as nearly as may be, of twice as many members as there are Senators, the members chosen in the several states being in proportion to population as shown by the latest statistics.

As readers of Canadian newspapers know, the larger of the two southern-Dominions has contributed liberally and extensively both in men, materials and money to its own war effort in particular as well as to the cause in general. Moreover, the fact that its public men are by no means dismayed at the prospect of conducting a general election while the conflict in Britain is at its most crucial stage is not only a tribute to the strength of democracy and democratic procedure in Australia, but also a reminder to the enemy that disagreement on domestic issues in no way dilutes common and enthusiastic accord on the essential objective—the complete defeat of Hitlerism.

Friendly Seattle

SOME GOOD SOULS IN SEATTLE HAVE formed themselves into an organization they have named the "Friends of Britain." Its motto is "Spitfires for the R.A.F." And we are told that sufficient money to buy one of these fighters already has been donated. Says the body's president:

"We would like Hitler to know that Americans who are friends of Britain don't need to be told when to send help. We would like the British mothers to feel there exists in America a kind of practical friendship, and that for every British plane shot down defending their homes and children there will be another, or perhaps more than one sent to take its place."

Victorians naturally have a soft spot in their hearts for the people of Seattle. They know them well; and Seattleites know us. We regard one another as neighbors in an even fuller sense of the term than the people of other border communities across the northern half of this hemisphere. But we are especially touched by the spirit of sympathy and helpfulness manifested by this "Spitfires-for-the-R.A.F." organization.

An Imposing Score

LET US TAKE OUR MIND FOR A MOMENT off the pictures of London's wrecked buildings and the contemplation of the more ghastly toll of human lives and study a few figures. They show us that yesterday was the fourth most successful day British fighters and gunners have had since August 15. Here are seven dates dealing only with occasions when 75 or more Hun planes were brought down:

	German Losses	British Losses
August 13	78	13
August 15	180	34
August 16	75	22
August 18	152	22
August 21	88	37
Sept. 7	103	24
Sept. 11	89	24
Totals	765	176

Not only does the table show a combined score of more than four to one in planes, it also is a reminder that the loss in German personnel is, at a conservative estimate, at least six times as great as that of the Royal Air Force. These are comforting facts these days—only shortly remote from the time when we were constantly warned of our vast numerical inferiority in the air.

WHERE DOES IT COME FROM?

From Calgary Herald
Some millionaires live plenty of room. One man has an apartment in New York with 41 rooms and 15 baths, a private switchboard and 26 extension-phones. Another has a living-room in his apartment which is 60 feet long, 25 feet wide, and 30 feet high. At a Philadelphia wedding in 1929, the groom's gifts to the bride were valued at $4,000,000. Among them was a pearl necklace which reached to the floor.

The oddest spender of all time, perhaps, was Coal Oil Johnny, a naive farmer of Pennsylvania, who found $500,000 hidden in an old safe. He immediately went on a spending spree with it. First thing he did was to buy a locomotive with sleeping and baggage cars and go on a tour of the States. Every city he stopped in, he gave a dinner to anyone who would come. Few of them cost less than $1,000. His money was soon gone, and he returned home to take up work as a station agent. Right up to the end, he insisted that he had had as barrel of fun. When people ribbed him about his come-down, he would answer: "Money was made to spend."

It would be nice to say that all this has finished, and that wealthy people use their money for decent purposes. But I regret to report that there are still plenty of $2 cigars sold on this continent, and the odd $2,000,000 yacht changes hands. Last week, a Toronto man paid $12,000 for a bulldog. I wonder where all the money comes from?

Parallel Thoughts

Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. The spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak.—Mark 14:38.
Human life is a constant want, and ought to be a constant prayer.—S. Osmond.

Bruce Hutchison

(Now on a tour of British Columbia, Mr. Hutchison will report on what he finds in the interior of the province and how the people generally are meeting conditions which the war has changed considerably. He writes from Ashcroft.)

TOY YICK'S FARM

THE TOMATO CROP isn't very good on Toy Yick's farm beside the Thompsons. The old Chinese stood there today and looked across his fields of reddening tomatoes, and his broad face was lined and twisted with worry. "Him tam land, him no good," said Toy Yick. "Clop too small, no can make money."

It is a pitifully small crop considering the work Toy Yick and his 10 partners put into it. They sowed the seeds in their greenhouse last February, stayed up all night stoking the fires and in April, working from dawn to dark, they planted the seedling tomatoes out in the fields. Since then they have hoed and irrigated from 12 to 15 hours a day. Now the crop is small because the land is worked out, the fertility drained from it by too much cropping, year after year.

Anyway, tomatoes are not worth much—10 or 15 dollars a ton. "Ten dollah, numbah two," says Toy Yick, "15 dollah, numbah one. Most all, numbah two. No can make money," he says again, stooping to pick up a fat, ripe tomato dropped by one of his Indian pickers. (The pickers shouldn't miss a single tomato when they are paid $45 a month by Toy Yick.)

TOMATOES EVERYWHERE

The tomato boxes are piled high among the sprawling vines of the field, and now they load them on a truck and take them down the hill to Ashcroft. This whole country seems covered with tomatoes (pronounced universally to rhyme with potato). Spilled tomatoes lie along the roads, and on the streets of Ashcroft. The red smear of them is on everything, and the smell of them, the rich spiced smell of tomato ketchup, pours out of the canneries, lies heavy like a cloud in the pocket of the valley, and permeates the whole air. You eat tomatoes at every meal.

Some of the best tomatoes in the world, no doubt—huge, scarlet, firm of flesh, crammed with juice. They are a great harvest of the year here, for out of these fields, some 500 acres, must come about 3,000,000 cans of tomatoes and nearly a million cans of tomato juice, for the city people down at the coast. And as the city people want to get their tomatoes cheap, at about 12 or 15 cents a can, there isn't much money in it for Toy Yick and the other Chinese.

Yet this tomato industry supports 600 people in the fields and in the cannery at this time of year. It is a kind of festival up here, the tomato season. Ashcroft is filled with girls who have come to town to work in the cannery, with Chinese and Indians who are here to pick the tomatoes. At night the street, the movie house, the soda fountain and beer parlor are crowded. It makes old-timers think of the Cariboo freighting days, when the eight-horse wagons used to start from here for the gold fields up north.

GIRLS IN BLUE CAPS

IT IS ONE of the great autumn sights of British Columbia, out of which a painter could make a vivid picture, full of color—the girls in their neat blue caps and smocks, the endless procession of blood-red tomatoes in glistening pans, and the steady stream of shiny tins moving on a belt overhead and everybody working desperately to keep up with the ripening process in the fields.

In this rich smell of tomatoes, hanging over the valley at Ashcroft, in this noise of machinery and this soft steam and deft work of women's hands, observe an important social phenomenon, and our whole economic problem in miniature. This valley has progressed from hay growing for freight teams to potato growing and now to the mechanical process of tomato canning. The machine age has come even to this quiet little town.

The machine age brings with it many problems. First the worker must be protected from the machine, must work only so many hours a day and for minimum wages—38 cents an hour for men, 30 cents for women. This, as always, sets up a chain of complications.

The cannery operator must compete with operators in Ontario and Quebec who pay much lower wages, and yet he cannot raise his price to the consumer. The consumer likes to howl about low wages, but he doesn't want to pay higher prices. He wants tomatoes for 12 or 15 cents a can where he used to pay 25. The answer, of course, is mass production—3,000,000 cans pouring through this little Ashcroft factory in a couple of months.

In the end, Toy Yick and his colleagues take the rap. They have to produce tomatoes at $15 a ton for the best quality, $10 for the lower grade, and there you have it—Oriental problem. For no white man could produce tomatoes at that price—the price demanded by the consumer down at the coast. No white man would sit up all night with tomato seedlings in the greenhouse, and plant them out in the spring, 2,700 of them to the acre, and hoe them all summer, and pay rent for the land at $15 an acre.

Thus our tomato industry up here, Ashcroft's local industry, the employment of about 600 people for two months in the autumn depends on the toll of a handful of old Chinese. If they were to die tomorrow the industry would collapse. There is an angle of the Oriental problem that we never think about down at the coast.

After putting his horse through jumps, I once asked: "Am I sick? Am I tired?" The rest of the stanza probably goes, "Oh, I am! OK, you're tired."

Elmore Philpott

WHEN PEACE BREAKS OUT

IN SOME RESPECTS I was glad that Agnes MacPhail was beaten in the Saskatoon by-election. Had she not been, she probably would never have got out here to see us on the Pacific coast. And, had she not come here, I would never have had a chance to get a real photograph of her, instead of that monstrosity which has been appearing in the press for about the last 20 years.

I think that one reason why Miss MacPhail gets on so well with her audiences is that they go to hear her, expecting her to look like that old 1921 picture, and then are so agreeably surprised that they are all the more favorably impressed by what she says.

Miss MacPhail's proper place, of course, is that which she has occupied since 1921—as the representative in the House of Commons of the Ontario farmer, but, in this respect, my own opinion differs from that of many other observers, who persist in classing Agnes as a spokeswoman for women, which she has never been. Ever since I remember anything that she said, she has been fighting the battles of the people she knows best, understands best and likes best—the farmers of Ontario.

JOB FOR AGNES

Sometimes I feel sorry for MacKenzie King because he has the war on his hands and a lot of other grief as well. There is, for instance, this matter of what to do with Miss MacPhail. From all over the country women's clubs, including those of Liberal stripe, are pouring in resolutions suggesting that Agnes be appointed to the Senate. Other people—men close to MacKenzie King—pointed out that such action would destroy the peace and quiet of that haven of rest on which they themselves have an eye. Moreover, there are two women senators already, and both of them come from Ontario.

The usual suggestion is that Miss MacPhail be appointed to the prison commission and in one respect such would be a fitting appointment, because for more than 10 years Agnes fought almost a single-handed battle in Parliament to achieve the reform, especially for young prisoners, which the commission is supposed to carry out.

PREPARE FOR PEACE

Speaking in all earnestness, I believe that Miss MacPhail could best serve Canada during this war period in a manner which has so far been entirely overlooked by the government; that is, in setting up a small body of people, with public and other suitable experience in Canada, whose sole job it should be to study how to meet the extremely grave economic problems which are going to face this country when the war ends. Speaking in Vancouver recently, Sir Edward Beatty bluntly declared that the economic problems which Canada would face at the end of this war undoubtedly would be graver than any in the 20 years preceding it. One does not need to be an economist, prophet or university professor to know that this will be true. Unless we plan in advance to meet this problem, we are going to find ourselves even more unprepared for peace than we were for war.

In the last war, Sweden set up a national employment board, whose duty it was to devise ways and means of dealing with the difficulties created by the unusual conditions of that struggle. So well did this board do its work that when the great depression descended on the world in 1929, Sweden, unlike almost all other countries, had only to put in motion counter-measures prepared many years before.

As a simple example of the sort of thing that this Peace Preparation Board would do, take the matter of the trans-Canada highway. Everyone now realizes that what Mr. Bennett said in 1930 was true. We should have, and must have, our own hard-surfaced highway from coast to coast.

GOD KEEP ENGLAND

The following poem appearing in an Old Country newspaper, the Nottingham News, is by Edna Jaques, well-known contributor to the Toronto Star's Little of Everything column. Someone at Moose Jaw, Sask., sent a copy of it to a resident of West Bridgford, England, who in turn sent it to the Nottingham paper with high commendation. In republishing "the fervent lines," the News says: "They will be read with pride and gratitude by patriotic countrymen who appreciate the love and self-sacrifice of our kinsmen in the great Dominion overseas who are doing so much to keep England safe and free."

God, keep England in Thy care
From invasion of the air,
Bursting shell and bomb and sword,
Keep this lovely land, O Lord.

God keep England, let her be
Barricaded by the sea,
Guarded by the fog and night,
Held forever by Thy might.

Keep her people in this hour
From a bloody tyrant's power;
May the feet of conquering host
Never tread her sacred post.

Give her courage, Lord, and strength
To endure the battle's length,
Conscious of her destiny:
God keep England safe—and free!

FOUR HOURS DOWN

In Morro Velho, Brazil, gold is extracted from the earth from a depth of almost a mile and a half, a mine believed to be the world's deepest. The pit, more than 7,500 feet under the earth's surface, is the lowest level at which man has ever successfully worked.

The journey from sunlight to the bottom darkness where men scratch for gold must be made in three stages—first by elevator, then by cable car, lastly by iron dump car attached to strong steel cable. Four hours after entering barks from the iron dump cart. Six times as deep into the earth as the world's tallest structure into the sky, the trip takes 80 times as long. A monthly average of 17,000 tons of ore is lifted to the surface and worked for gold.

10 in Hamilton Barred From School

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Ten children had been expelled from public school here because they refused to sing the National Anthem and salute the flag. This was disclosed in a statement by Trustee Dr. W. L. Whitelock, chairman of the board of education.

"The matter cannot end with the expulsion," he said. "Something more must be done, by someone in authority, but who should do it and what he should do is the point we must deal with."

The board asked the Ontario Department of Education and the Attorney-General's department for information on the matter.

Warns Opposition On War Attitude

CAPETOWN (CP)—Premier Jan Christian Smuts has called the public's attention to certain opposition party members in the House of Assembly who are displaying hostility toward Britain, and warned that the government of the Union of South Africa will not hesitate to invoke extraordinary war powers against them.

Persons attempting to stand in the way of South Africa's war effort in any way will be so dealt with, the Premier declared in an address to the Assembly last night. He said:

"Only yesterday, Britain was South Africa's best friend. To day, when Britain is engaged in a life and death struggle and London is being bombed, members of the opposition are adopting a view of hostility toward her."

"Some members actually seem to hope for a German victory. To sentiments of that sort we can only cry shame."

General J. B. M. Hertzog, former Prime Minister and opposition leader, has demanded several times that the Union of South Africa make peace with Germany and Italy, but each time has been voted down by the Union House of Assembly.

On September 5, 1939, while he still was Premier, he recommended that the Union's relations with Germany "persist unchanged, as if no war were being waged." He was voted down 80 to 66 and the next day resigned as Prime Minister.

On January 27 the Assembly defeated, 81 to 59, a Hertzog motion deploring British war policy and calling for peace with Germany and Italy. A similar motion was rejected again on August 31, this time by vote of 83 to 65.

Bovril Entertains Overseas Troops

Many Canadian troops were among the guests at a monster "sherry party" for members of the Overseas Forces given recently at Overseas House, London, by Bovril Limited, it was learned here today. Guests included also a large number of Australians, Indians and New Zealanders in uniform.

Sir Jocelyn Lucas, chairman of the welcome committee, introduced the Duke of Atholl, vice-chairman of the Bovril organization. In his address of welcome, the Duke expressed the regret of Lord Luke, chairman of the company, for his unavoidable absence, and said that he felt it was an honor to be asked to welcome the guests on behalf of the Overseas League.

In former days, he continued, he would have referred to Dominions and Colonies, but today he addressed the company as Overseas members of H.M. Forces, for today all members of the Empire were one family, and though separated by many hundreds of miles of sea, absolutely indivisible, cemented together not only by the bonds of kinship but by holding the same principles and ethics. Those many miles of sea might yet perhaps prove a salvation and a strength.

He was reminded of what a celebrated ancestor of his, holding the Isle of Man against the King's enemies in the 17th century, retorted to the request to surrender the Isle. It was: "I abhor your treason, I disdain your offer, I scorn your solicitations; and I will keep this Isle to your disadvantage, and if you make any further requests of this nature I will burn the paper and hang the bearer, and that shall be the constant practice of one who counts it to be his chiefest honor to sign himself His Majesty's faithful servant, Derby." That, he thought and hoped, was the type of answer that Hitler would receive if he ever made any offer, and it was the only kind he would understand.

The vote electing Dr. Tuttle came after the commissioners had set aside until the next session of the General Council a resolution recommending that two Moderators be elected at each council, each Moderator to serve one year and the terms to run consecutively.

Those nominated beside Dr. Tuttle were Dr. E. Crossley Hunter of First United Church, Hamilton; Dr. W. Harold Young, St. Paul's Avenue Road United Church, Toronto; and Rev. Peter T. Pilkey, St. Paul's United Church, Winnipeg. Dr. Tuttle was chosen on the first vote.

A native of Pugwash, N.S., Dr. Tuttle is 61 years of age. He started church work in the old Methodist Church in 1897 as a student missionary.

He graduated from Mount Allison University in 1905, and won a master of arts degree three years later. Soon after, he transferred to the Alberta Methodist Conference.

Dr. Tuttle was appointed principal of Alberta College in 1919, but when the Church union was carried out in 1925 this college amalgamated with Robertson Presbyterian College to become St. Stephen's, where he became president.

He held the presidency of the Alberta Conference of the Methodist Church in 1918 and in 1934 was head of the Alberta Conference of the United Church.

We can remain isolated only if and so long as Herr Hitler permits it.—Prof. Sidney Post Simpson of Harvard Law School.

Weddings

LINDLEY-CAINE

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dirom, 830 Princess Avenue, on Friday, September 6, at 8 p.m., when Margaret Louise, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Caine, 549 Beta Street, was united in marriage to Ernest Lindley, eldest son of Mrs. A. Lindley, 2718 Scott Street, and the late Mr. A. Lindley. Rev. G. A. Reynolds officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a pretty dusty rose afternoon dress with matching turban and accessories and a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses and swansonia. Her only attendant was Mrs. Verne Weaver of Duncan, who wore a smart blue crepe afternoon dress with a blue hat to match and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. The bridegroom's brother, Mr. William Lindley, was best man.

Among the many gifts was a trillite lamp from the fellow employees of the groom at the British American Paint Company.

CROMPTON-HALEY

A marriage of interest to many pioneer families in this province was solemnized recently at "Wedge Gables", Vancouver, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haley, when their only daughter, Doreen Elsie, became the bride of John Walter Scott, only son of Major and Mrs. R. W. Crompton, former residents of Victoria. During the ceremony, which was performed by Lt.-Col. Rev. C. E. Owen, the bride stood in a window embrasure banked with white gladioli and lighted with tall white tapers, the beautiful garden forming an attractive background.

The bride was lovely in her gown of white silk jersey with long tulle veil and coronet of pearls. The attendants, Miss Kaye Falkins and Miss Jocelyn Crompton, sister of the groom, looked charming in frocks of orchid and misty blue tulle. They carried sheaves of pink and orchid gladioli. The groom was supported by Mr. John Arnold.

Mrs. Haley received in a Marina blue crepe gown and silver lame turban, assisted by Mrs. Crompton in a smart gown of dusty pink jersey and picture hat of dark blue felt.

The bride is a great-granddaughter of the late Sir MacKenzie Bowell, one of the Fathers of Confederation, and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haley of Vancouver. The groom is the grandson of Mrs. Robson of Victoria and the late Mr. G. R. Robson who for many years served in the Hudson's Bay Co. as district and post manager in northern and interior B.C.

Catholic Women's League Is Busy

Rev. Father Gaudette opened the first meeting of fall season for the senior subdivision of the Catholic Women's League with the usual prayer and a few encouraging remarks for the work to be undertaken during the coming winter. Mrs. W. C. McManus, the president, was in the chair and the members assembled in the Parish Hall, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. P. C. Shaw reported on hospital visiting at St. Joseph's during the summer, and Mrs. Hornsby and Mrs. Blair Reid volunteered for the next month. Educational convener, Mrs. F. Elms, Canadian, said the prize winners for history at St. Louis College and St. Ann's Academy had not yet been announced, but the presentations would be made at the commencement exercises. Several members had assisted in the making of jam with the Local Council of Women, and the fruit will be distributed by the Red Cross as the occasion requires.

Magazines and other literature for re-mailing have been collected and forwarded by Mrs. J. J. O'Brien and her committee. The Credit Union report was very encouraging and plans are made for a general meeting of the shareholders and a social evening in the K. of C. Hall, on the evening of September 30. The workers at the Three Services Canteen who have been most faithful during the summer, Mrs. E. Masterson and Mrs. Dickenson, received the praise of the members. Mrs. F. T. ## Urgent Call Made to Red Cross Knitters

TORONTO—An urgent appeal to women to knit turtle-neck sweaters, seamen's stockings, two-way mitts and balacava helmets was made yesterday by Mrs. Wallace Campbell, national chairman of the women's war work committee of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

"We have received word that these articles are needed by a Canadian force at an unnamed location," Mrs. Campbell said. The national chairman appealed for an immediate start on the knitting of the articles and added, "I also want to ask women who already have these articles on their knitting needles, to finish them as soon as possible and send them in."

Women are asked to send the finished product to their nearest Red Cross branch so that they may be shipped promptly through the divisional headquarters to the national warehouse.

Grey and khaki are the preferred colors for sweaters, though all colors are acceptable. The sweaters are long-bodied and can be made from the all-purpose wool. The two-way mitts enable a man to handle a rifle easily in cold weather. Instructions for the helmets and seamen's stockings are contained in the Red Cross knitting book.

Bugles Only Ceremonial Note as Destroyers Change Hands

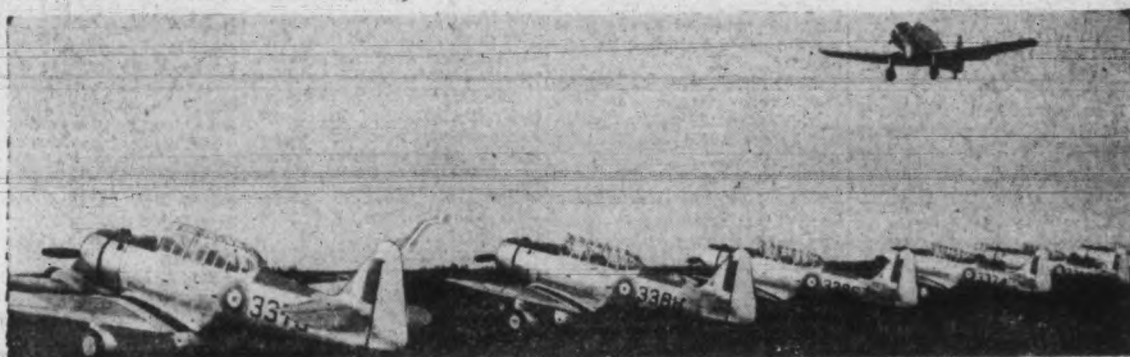

In a simple, brief ceremony, the first group of 50 U.S. destroyers being transferred to Britain changed their nationality on Monday. As bugles sounded "to the Flag," 1,000 U.S. sailors snapped to attention and the Stars and Stripes fluttered down. One hour later, British bugles sounded "Colors" and the Union Jack and white ensign was run up. British tars went aboard, were shown over the ships, and the U.S. seamen left. They didn't like to leave; more than one remarked that he'd rather be taking his ship into active service himself. The cheering band of British seamen (top) are shown as they arrived at an east coast Canadian port to take over the first of the U.S. destroyers released for service with the Royal Navy. On September 9 they took formal possession of the ship. Shown (bottom) is one of the destroyers shortly after its arrival in Canada.

Largest Group of Graduates Since War Began

Forming the last group of airmen to graduate from R.C.A.F. training, 40 young fliers ended their student days when Group Capt. A. T. N. Cowley, officer commanding the air school at Camp Borden and formerly of Victoria, pinned on their wings. One graduate was in hospital and missed the ceremony, toward which the others are shown marching. The class was the largest to graduate in Canada since the war began, and included men from every province. Henceforth, new pilots will graduate under the joint training scheme.

Ordered From France, Yale Trainers Come to Canada

Ordered originally by France before her collapse, 119 big training planes are now being delivered in Canada for use in the Commonwealth air training scheme. Resembling the Harvard trainer already in use in Canada, these slightly slower craft are known as the Yale. Forty have already been delivered, and others are being assembled in a plant near Toronto. All the instrument readings are in French, but the English equivalents have been painted around the dials. The machines have a 450-horsepower engine which gives them a top speed of 165 miles an hour compared with the Harvard's 200 plus. They will be used in intermediate training.

Bomb Fires Light Up the Sky Over London

Great fires throughout London light up the sky in this dramatic picture, taken as German warplanes rained incendiary and high explosive bombs on the British capital. Pillars of flame guided Nazi air men to the target. British fighting planes are inflicting heavy losses on the enemy as fierce dogfights take place over the heart of the city.

GERMAN FRIGHTFULNESS FAILS TO DAUNT BRAVE LONDONERS—Mother and children, assisted by an air raid warden (left) hurry to a shelter as Nazis bomb London. This group is representative of hundreds of such London residents who bravely undergo hour after hour of destruction from the skies, which leave them cursing

Hitler but with even stronger will for victory. Results of bombing in a Thames dock district is seen (right). Indiscriminate bombing caused similar damage in widely-separated sections, but not to such an extent that the Empire's capital was not one whit daunted by the Nazi "all out" air attacks.

Capt. Edward H. Webb, who heads the "suicide squad" of Montreal, who bailed out "when Canadian engineers which is busy cleaning up Nazi delayed-action bombs in England. He used to work for the Hudson's Bay Company in Winnipeg, was born in Orillia and is 27.

Flying Officer Bill Sprenger of Montreal, who bailed out "when my instrument board started exploding in my face." He was chasing a pair of Nazi planes when another shot away his controls. His Hurricane had dropped a mile before he bailed out.

SEATTLE having won its second straight Coast League baseball pennant brings to mind the fact that Sacramento is still the only city in the circuit never to have won the championship. The Solons have challenged several times. In the late 1920's they won half of a split season, but were defeated by the San Francisco Seals in the playoff which decided the championship.

In 1937 Sacramento finished in the No. 1 spot in the loop, but the pennant still went to the club taking the playoff. That year it was the third-place San Diego outfit that topped it. In 1938 and again last season Sacramento won the playoff series, but the league bosses had changed the rules again, giving the pennant to the team finishing in first position.

The 1940 Pacific Coast League season will go into history without a single individual record being set for seasonal performance. None of the individual leaders in batting, base-stealing or pitching is even close to record performance. Dick Barrett had a chance of bettering the high percentage of wins—87.5 for 28 victories, four defeats—set by Fay Thomas with Los Angeles in 1924, but he can't do it in the few games remaining. Barrett having 23 wins, five defeats for a percentage of .821 to date.

Aldon Wilkie also had an opportunity of improving on Slim Love's 1.56 earned run average, made with Los Angeles a quarter of a century or more ago. But the Seattle southpaw has slipped of late and is now up to 2.34, still low, but not close to Love's record.

Whether any leading marks are endangered isn't known as no day-by-day record of defensive play is compiled and this arithmetic won't be revealed until the official figures are released in midwinter.

It's pretty well authenticated by now that the biggest farm reversal in the New York Yankees' sudden turnaround from a wallowing fifth-place club to a red-hot pennant contender is the pitching staff.

Whereas few of Joe McCarthy's flingers were able to go the full distance a month ago, nearly all now have developed into regular dependable.

All of which finds the Yanks sitting pretty for a flock of double-headers which face them.

Of greatest value, possibly, has been the unexpected help from Steve Sundra and Atley Donald. Ernie Bonham, up from the Kansas City farm club, has also indicated he has what it takes, and the three of them have blossomed forth as starting pitchers worthy of the name.

Sundra and Donald looked so futile during the first few months of the season that they got most of their exercise in the bullpen. (Turn to Page 16, Col. 5)

Returning to her home ring, after remarkable success in shows at Portland, Tacoma, Spokane and Salem, Hurrah Kate, outstanding brown mare owned by Mrs. H. J. Fisher and ridden admirably by Mrs. D. B. Carley, added further honors to her list as the big two-night Red Cross horse show opened at the Willows last night.

After capturing first ribbons in the jumping for lightweight hunters and the natural jump course, the Victoria thoroughbred gave a faultless performance as a member of the winning jumper team to climax a brilliant exhibition.

With total proceeds being donated to the Red Cross the show attracted well over 1,000 people who thoroughly enjoyed the performances by horses from all parts of the island and the mainland. Official opening of the show was by Lieutenant-Governor E. W. Hamber. After being introduced by Commander C. H. R. Singsby, His Honor complimented members of the Victoria Riding Academy for their initiative and patriotism in arranging the show to aid Canada's war effort. "We must do everything and anything to help the war effort, and I sincerely hope other organizations will follow suit," he said. "I fully realize the amount of work and sacrifice necessary to arrange a show like this, and I am glad to see the public has given its support."

Other members of the Lieutenant-Governor's party included Mrs. Hamber, Brigadier Sutherland Brown, A.D.C., and Mrs. Mae Rice.

The Red Cross Society was represented by Col. R. S. Worsley and Stewart Clarke.

FEATURE EVENT

Feature event on the program was the competition for jumper teams. Composing three riders, with each performing individually, the jumpers were called to take a tough course, including picket-top gate, red brick wall, low rail jump, two natural rail jumps, stone wall, single rail and triple bar.

First to enter the ring Hurrah Kate drew tremendous applause for a perfect performance. The Victoria mare was followed by Chenango, a brown gelding owned by Mrs. Carley and ridden by Mrs. D. Sutherland, Vancouver. Second member of the winning team this horse drew a big hand for giving a perfect exhibition. Third member of the team was Montana, owned by the Victoria Riding Academy and ridden by Jerry Aitken. After touching the picket gate Montana cleared the remaining jumps in perfect style.

Second place in the jumper teams went to Rob Roy, owned and ridden by A. J. McPherson, Vancouver; Jimmy O'Day owned by T. S. Elvins and ridden by Jack Cripps, and Llesah, owned by the Victoria Riding Academy and ridden by Miss P. Boyes. Third honors were awarded to Midnight, owned and ridden by Jack Hayes; Kelpie, owned and ridden by Mrs. G. B. Barnes, Crofton; and Sonny Boy, owned and ridden by Bob Shanks.

Best individual performance was given by Hurrah Kate and at the conclusion Mrs. Carley was presented with the handsome cup, donated by the New York Fur Company of Vancouver.

Western Canada Golf Play Opens

VANCOUVER (CP)—A score of champions teed off today in the 72-hole medal competition for the western Canada $1,000 open golf championship over the Capilano course at North Vancouver.

Heading the list of Canadians are two old teammates, the brilliant Stan Leonard and Ken Black. Leonard, professional at Calgary and formerly of Vancouver, won the Canadian Professional championship at Toronto last month while Ken, Vancouver amateur, won the Canadian amateur tournament at Montreal last year and still holds the title. The tournament was not held this year because of war conditions.

Another playmate of these two is Freddy Wood of Vancouver, recent winner of the Alberta open and present British Columbia open title. Last Wednesday he toured the 6,804-yard course seven under par with a 65 practice round.

Among Vancouver Island entrants are Joe Pryke and Phil Taylor of Victoria.

A crack team of United States stars are listed in the 90-odd names. They include Harry Givan of Seattle, who won the British Columbia amateur title here this year; Jerry Bert, Seattle city champion; Ken Tucker, Tacoma, Washington State champion, and Emery and Al Zimmerman, Portland.

Ex-hockey Player Drowns on Island

COURTENAY (CP)—Marcel Clement, former intermediate hockey player of Medicine Hat, Alta., was killed Tuesday when he fell into 25 feet of water at nearby Rock Bay, Vancouver Island, British Columbia police reported yesterday.

Police said they learned he dropped a pocket knife into the water and was seeking to recover it when he fell. His body was recovered and it was found he suffered a broken neck.

Clement's mother, Mrs. J. H. Charbonneau, resides at Fernie, B.C.

The body was taken to nearby Campbell River where an inquest will be held.

Cagers Meet

A meeting of the Victoria and District Basketball League will be held this evening at the Y.M.C.A. at 7.30. Plans for the coming season will be discussed.

All of last season's clubs are asked to have delegates present, and new teams interested in joining the league are invited to have representatives at the parley.

LONDON (CP)—The race meeting scheduled to begin Saturday at Hurst Park was cancelled today as a result of intensification of the air war.

Hurst Park, in the London area, had been scheduled to share the reopening of the flat-racing season with Ripon, in the north, which is not affected by today's order.

Tigers Lead Again

Detroit Tigers clawed their way back on top of the American League yesterday by overpowering Boston Red Sox 11 to 7 while Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees divided a double-header.

Actually this outcome of three tremendous tussles put the standings in exactly the same form they were Tuesday.

Today Detroit is to defend its lead against the world champion Yankees in the first of a three-game series while the Boston Red Sox and Indians open a similar set in Cleveland.

It looked for a while yesterday as though the Yankee parade was about to win the prize right away. Rookie Ernie Bonham beat Bob Feller 3 to 1 in a desperate pitching duel, each giving five hits, in the first game of a twin bill.

The Yankees banged out two runs in the first inning of the nightcap, but the pent-up Indians routed Red Ruffing with five runs in the third and won 5 to 3 when darkness halted the play in the sixth.

Detroit had the kind of a ding-dong game you would expect when the Tigers and Red Sox collide. There were 32 hits off eight pitchers and the lead teetered back and forth until Hank Greenberg hit his 31st homer with one on in the last of the fifth.

LEONARD BEATEN

Chicago White Sox caught up with Dutch Leonard, who had hand-cuffed them five times, and whipped Washington Senators 7 to 4 with a 14-hit assault.

Elden Auker and George Caster put on a pitching performance rivalling that of Feller and Bonham, each allowing five hits, but St. Louis Browns' hits included a homer, two triples and a double and they shut out Philadelphia Athletics 3 to 0.

Cincinnati Reds increased their lead in the National League to nine full games by sweeping a doubleheader from Boston Bees 8 to 0 and 3 to 1, while Brooklyn Dodgers were losing a pair to Chicago Cubs 8 to 5 and 3 to 2.

Dizzy Dean stalked back into the National League by hurling six hit ball for the second triumph over the Dodgers. He had good control and varying speed, but none of it like his former fast one.

St. Louis Cardinals gouged New York Giants twice, 7 to 4 and 3 to 2. Pittsburgh Pirates crushed the Phillies 9 to 3.

COAST LEAGUE

It was more than just another win last night for Herman Pillette, 45-year-old Coast League pitching veteran.

The San Diego hurler set a new league record for games pitched—622—as he held the champion Seattle Rainiers to six hits in winning the second game of a twin bill, 5 to 3, at San Diego. Seattle had taken the opener, 3 to 1.

Home runs by Bill Salkeld, George McDonald, and Mickey Haslin helped make Pillette's record game a Padre victory. Coming in successive innings, the round trippers nullified a three-run Seattle rally in the third, and Art Garibaldi singled in the two deciding runs in the sixth.

The opener was a pitching duel between Bill Walker of Seattle and Wally Hebert, each giving up six hits. The Rainiers bunched two for two in the second and added another run in the third on a three-hit blast.

The one San Diego win, with Sacramento's 2 to 0 loss to Hollywood, assured the Padres of fourth place and the right to play in the post-season Shaughnessy playoffs. San Diego now leads Sacramento by three and a half games.

Another shutout was turned in by Jess Flores, Los Angeles

Knockout for Callura Oakland, Cal. (CP)—Jackie Callura, Hamilton, Ont., featherweight now campaigning out of New York, knocked out Chick Delaney of San Leandro, Cal., in the second round of a scheduled 10-round boxing bout here last night. Callura weighed 125, Delaney 122.

Bud Ward Battles Way Into Last Eight in U.S. Golf

Favorsome Is Great in Defeat

The big Citizens' Day crowd at Willows race track yesterday applauded a gallant horse in defeat. For though the hurdle champion of the year, Mrs. F. H. Hammond's Favorsome had to take second place to the old-timer, Somer's Choice, his crown was in no way tarnished.

Favorsome shouldered the staggering impost of 170 pounds for the mile and seven-eighths journey that included six hurdles. He set the pace for most of the distance, and even when collared by Somer's Choice in the last quarter refused to give in without a struggle and dinged-donged it out right to the wire. The margin of defeat was a short head.

The thrilling finish had the entire crowd standing and shouting uproariously for their favorite.

Favorsome is another of the sterling performers turned out by the veteran Vancouver Island sire, Somer's Heir, which stands at the Beban farm at Extension.

SECOND STRAIGHT

Honors in the Mount Tolmie handicap also went to a Somer's Heir mare, the speedy Some Turkey. The Simon mare registered her second straight win of the meet by lasting to hold the fast-closing Contributor at the mile and one-sixteenth route.

The event marked the first time this year that Riverview Stable's Simtee, a son of Simony, has been out of the money. Simtee followed Some Turkey's pace to the last bend, but gave way when the real racing began.

Alex Haller, leading rider of the meeting, posted two more winners yesterday, one of them the consistent Vena Marcus, which was quite overlooked by the punters despite her easy win the day before, and returned 10 to 1 in the mutuels.

Johnny Hruschak also posted a double, getting home with Hazel King and Some Turkey.

Miss Jameson Taken to 19th

SEATTLE (AP)—Brown-haired Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., the national women's champion, was forced to the 19th hole yesterday before surviving her second round match in the women's western amateur golf tournament at the Seattle Golf Club.

Miss Jameson, tourney co-medalist, was playing slender Ellamae Williams, the Chicago city and Illinois state champion who is the daughter of a Chicago professional.

The match headlined the day's play, which otherwise was marked by higher scores and more erratic golf than had been the rule earlier in the week.

Other co-medalist, Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., had trouble winning from Mrs. Frank Currie, Seattle, 6 and 4, although both were well over par.

Diminutive Elizabeth Hicks of Long Beach, Calif., racked up another one-sided victory, showing the day's best golf in defeating Mrs. Helen H. Bertagnole of Salt Lake City, 6 and 5.

Other results yesterday follow: Mrs. Mary Moez Wagner of Portland defeated Sissy Green, Portland, 4 and 2.

Mrs. J. K. Priebe, Seattle, defeated 16-year-old Jeanne Cline of Bloomington, Ill., 1 up in a ding-dong battle of "alternately spectacular and spotty golf."

Muriel Veatch of Longview, Wash., came from behind to defeat Mrs. Omar Anderson of Portland, Ore., 3 and 1 after trailing by one hole at the turn.

Beatrice Barrett of Minneapolis won the battle of the twin cities when she defeated Jane Goodsell of St. Paul, 1938 western junior champion, 1 up.

In a major upset, W. D. (Duff) McCullough Jr. of Philadelphia knocked out Willie Turnesa, 1938, winner, 3 and 2.

McCullough plays Fischer next. Yesterday afternoon marked the defeat of the Pacific Northwest's second-contender, when Scotty Campbell, Seattle, was beaten 1 up by Sheehan.

N.B.A. Seeks to Control Fighters

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The National Boxing Association has taken the offensive in its struggle for control of boxing by adopting a policy intended to place the majority of pugilists under the thumb of its member states.

The policy adopted yesterday at the association's closing convention session, states that a title is always at stake when a champion meets a man who makes the championship weight.

The rating system was altered by the N.B.A., dividing fighters into two divisions. The first group would be limited to men regarded as of championship calibre. A second group, considered potential contenders, would be listed as outstanding fighters.

A champion must meet at least one of the "outstanding" fighters within six months of the time he wins the title. His opponent must make the championship weight. Every six months thereafter, the champion must defend his title against one of "championship calibre" contenders.

The N.B.A. decided that instead of taking the title away from a fighter who fails to comply with its requirements, it would suspend him until he does. Fights were put into this provision by a decree that any boxer who meets or contracts to meet a suspended man also shall be liable to immediate suspension.

This, said a spokesman, would prevent champions from reaping a harvest "in the sticks" by boxing unrated men between the dates of their major fights in New York, which is not a member of the N.B.A.

ON FIGHT CARD—When the boxing show is staged at the Willows Sports Centre on Saturday night, Billy Knowles, above, local middleweight scrapper, will appear in one of the supporting bouts. Chuck Nickason, Vancouver light heavyweight, who is billed to meet Bob Patterson, Denver, in the 10-round main event, was scheduled to arrive in town today. Patterson is due tomorrow. Both principals will work out at the Victoria Boys' Hobby Club. First bout Saturday night will start at 8.30.

Knockout for Callura Oakland, Cal. (CP)—Jackie Callura, Hamilton, Ont., featherweight now campaigning out of New York, knocked out Chick Delaney of San Leandro, Cal., in the second round of a scheduled 10-round boxing bout here last night. Callura weighed 125, Delaney 122.

Northwest Star Beats Pat Abbott

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP)—Wilford Wehrle of Chicago gained the quarter finals of the 44th national amateur golf championship today by routing husky Tom Sheehan of Northville, Mich., 5 and 4, with a steady flow of straight-down-the-middle, dead-for-the-pin golf.

Bud Ward of Olympia, Wash., stayed in the fight to retain the title he won a year ago at Chicago by whipping Pat Abbott, Pasadena, Calif., 3 and 2.

Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie qualified to meet Ward this afternoon by beating Harry Haverstick of Philadelphia 1 up on the first extra hole with a 4 to 5, after coming from behind to wipe out his rival's 2-up lead on the back nine.

George Dawson, veteran Chicagoan who has been playing beautiful golf since the start of the tournament, went into the bracket opposite Wehrle for this afternoon's round of eight by putting out 20-year-old Otto Greiner of Baltimore, 6 and 4.

Medalist Dick Chapman, 3 up at the turn, lost little time in closing out Maurice McCarthy Jr. of Cincinnati, 5 and 4. Chapman, a Winged Foot Club member, was under par again.

WARD 4 UP AT TURN
Ward, on a one-over-par 37, was 4 up on Abbott finalist two years ago. After the first two holes were halved in 5's, Ward won the next four as the Californian missed the green at the third, was stymied at the fourth, lost the fifth to a birdie 4 and overshot the green on the sixth.

Ward, after going off line to drop the short seventh to a par, came back to take the ninth with a birdie 4, after hanging an 18-foot bird for an eagle on the lip.

Johnny Fischer, 1936 champion from Cincinnati, ended the threat of the 1922 title winner, Jess Sweetser, with a 4 and 3 victory.

Johnny Burke, New York Metropolitan champion, had to go to the 15th after being 3 up with three to play to eliminate Frank Strafaci 1 up. Burke plays Chapman this afternoon.

In a major upset, W. D. (Duff) McCullough Jr. of Philadelphia knocked out Willie Turnesa, 1938, winner, 3 and 2.

McCullough plays Fischer next. Yesterday afternoon marked the defeat of the Pacific Northwest's second-contender, when Scotty Campbell, Seattle, was beaten 1 up by Sheehan.

In his two matches yesterday Ward defeated Ellis Knowles, Rye, N.Y., 6 and 5 and Freddy Haas, New Orleans, 3 and 2.

Of the 16 players who survived yesterday's "sudden death" program, two were from the far west—Ward and Pat Abbott of Pasadena, Calif., runner-up in 1938; five were from the middle west—including former champion Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati, and nine were from the east, among them two other ex-holders, Willie Turnesa (1938) and Jess Sweetser (1922).

Nearly 18,000 Visited Fair on Citizens' Day

Officials of the 79th annual exhibition at the Willows beamed with pleasure late last night when they sat down for a quiet moment and contemplated the outstanding success of Citizens' Day.

Gatemen reported that close to 18,000 persons passed through the gates during the day—an increase of approximately 20 per cent over Citizens' Day of 1939.

Perfect weather graced the occasion. Thousands of children attended and they all had a wonderful time, taxing the various rides to capacity. Before each, fathers and mothers, big brothers and sisters, stood in line to take their places on the merry-go-round and the ferris wheel.

Vendors of hot dogs, pop, ice cream and many other confections did a roaring business. Hundreds of people had their supper at the fair, continuing the rounds of the midway, the sideshows and the buildings until dark.

Despite the threat of thunder and rain, and frequent flashes of lightning, thousands went to the fair last night and not until rain commenced to pelt the roads and the tents about 10.15 did people start homeward. Then there was a general run for shelters and street cars.

The stock parade, while not as large as usual, was just as good. Fat bulls and sleek cows paraded in the oval, while thousands applauded and gave an approving eye to the pride of many stockmen.

In the evening big cars drew up outside the gates and horse lovers got out on their way to the horse show.

Three more evenings and two full days remain for the fair, which will close Saturday.

FLOWER SHOW
The flower show attracted much interest, G. A. Robinson, the judge, praising the quantity and quality of the exhibits.

George Smethurst was in top place with his magnificent dahlias. He won 12 first and two second prizes. Mrs. C. Stadel earned three firsts, Mrs. A. McKay had two firsts and two seconds, Mrs. E. S. Mitchell two seconds and a third, and Mrs. H. Marshall two firsts, a second and a third, and Arthur Perry two firsts and a second.

Melville Mayhew did well in the gladioli section, with five firsts and three seconds. E. M. White won two firsts and a second, R. H. Ludbrook three seconds, J. C. Fields two firsts and two seconds and Mrs. Charles Spinks two seconds.

Principal winners in these classes were as follows: Mrs. H. Marshall five firsts and one second, Mrs. G. W. Winter three firsts and one second, Mrs. H. Humber and Arthur Perry two firsts each, W. Neilson and Albert Miles a first and a second each, Mrs. E. S. Mitchell four seconds and Mrs. C. Spinks two seconds.

Mr. Mayhew and Mrs. Ludbrook divided honors in the chrysanthemum classes. Others who did well here were Mrs. H. Marshall, T. Chattell and Mrs. A. McKay.

KERRY HILL SHEEP
Judging in the sheep classes finished yesterday. The ram championship went to Kerry Keepsake, handsome imported animal owned by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. T. Woodward, "Dartby Farm," Metochin. The Woodies also won the reserve ewe championship.

H. H. B. Abbott of Abbotsford took the ewe championship, with reserve ram championship going to Charles Ecclestone of Royal Oak.

Of much interest is the display of vegetables and fruits from Fairbridge Farm School in Cowichan Valley. The boys and girls from England are evidently learning how to farm well on Vancouver Island.

Ralston Inspects Troops

Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, is shown on an inspection of the 5th (B.C.) Coast Brigade here today. He told the men of the important part they were playing in Canada's war effort even though the Pacific coast was not as active as other parts of the Dominion. He was glad to see the men so keen in their work and spoke to many of them as he passed up and down the lines. He renewed acquaintances with several officers he served with during the last war.

Trial Delays To Be Probed

Attorney General Wismer promised immediate investigation today of a charge by Mr. Justice Manson in Vancouver that there was unnecessary delay in bringing prisoners to trial after their commitment by the lower courts.

"If there has been any delay it is not due to the crown's action," the Attorney General said. "The fault must lay with the courts."

He said he was writing to Judge Manson for specific instances and would have the whole matter investigated.

He said he knew of only one case that has been delayed unduly and that was done through desire of the courts to get a ruling by the Court of Appeal on a parallel set of circumstances.

Mr. Justice Manson, in his criticism, said the sheriff was supposed to notify the County Court judge 24 hours after a prisoner was committed for trial.

"That has not been done in the county of Vancouver, and I don't know why it has not been done," he said. "It is done in the county of Victoria, and charges are disposed of with dispatch. You have a situation in the precincts of this city which tends to mind amounts to a public scandal."

APARTMENT PLAN IS RESUBMITTED

An application from Gainsboro Apartments Limited for permission to convert 906 St. Charles Street, the old Bullen home, into an apartment, was included in a list of four appeals filed for consideration by the city zoning board of appeal this afternoon.

When the issue came before the Supreme Court here, the city was sustained in refusing a permit for the work unless the conversion proposal met the terms of the city's new zoning by-law amendment calling for approval of such a scheme by 65 per cent of the property owners in the immediate vicinity.

"The letter from the Gainsboro interests, above the signature of Gordon A. Cameron, stated in part:

"We herewith resubmit to the board for their approval plans and specifications and consents for conversion of 906 St. Charles Street into an apartment residence of eight suites and janitor's suite."

METCHOSIN
Under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, the Metochin Catholic Church held its fifth communion breakfast for officers and men of the forces at the Metochin Community Hall on September 8.

BUD WARD BEATEN

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP)—Defending champion Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, was knocked out of the United States amateur golf championship today by Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, 4 and 3. Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati, 1936 champion, bowed out 5 and 4 before W. D. (Duff) McCullough, Jr., of Philadelphia. McCullough will play Billows tomorrow.

In the other semi-final it will be Wilford Wehrle of Chicago against medalist Dick Chapman of the Winged Foot Golf Club. Both won 6 and 5 this afternoon. Wehrle over another Chicagoan, 39-year-old George Dawson, and Chapman over metropolitan champion Johnny Burke.

Significance of the new Canada-United States defence agreement lies in the fact it is not simply a temporary expedient to meet the present emergency, but means the setting up of a permanent board of joint defence. Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, said in his speech today in "international relations," the minister said.

"There was not much trumpeting about it, no long diplomatic negotiations. Simply an invitation by the President for Mr. King to dine with him. Then the dramatic announcement that electrified the democratic world."

Mr. Ralston said the defence board had already shown it meant business and had got down to business immediately.

"This speaks volumes, not only for the safety of North America, but for the safety of the free world," he declared.

"Canada is driving to put everything she has into the front line, which is in England. That is where the immediate shock must be overcome. And everything that strengthens our lines at home gives us that much more power to put into the front line in the Battle of Britain."

Heads of the three fighting services in Victoria attended the luncheon as guests, including Commander W. J. R. Beech, new commanding officer of the Pacific coast division of the navy; Brigadier C. V. Stockwell, D.O.C. for M.D. 11, and Air Commodore A. E. Godfrey, head of the Western Command, R.C.A.F. Premier Pattullo, members of the provincial cabinet, Senator J. H. King, R. W. ## GUILTY OF THEFT

The case of John A. Shero, 19, Winnipeg, who pleaded guilty in the City Police Court today to a charge of stealing money from Mrs. W. Turnbull, Shakespear Street, last Saturday, was adjourned until tomorrow.

Mrs. Turnbull said she saw Shero going from her yard as she returned from a neighbor's house. She called to him asking him what he wanted but he kept going. In the kitchen of her house she found her purse with $5 in bills and $1.50 or $2 in change missing.

Magistrate Hall directed that $6.25 be returned to Mrs. Turnbull, and said he would consider the evidence.

Another charge against Shero of attempting to break and enter was withdrawn.

Greek Liner In Collision

HOBOKEN, N.J. (AP)—The Greek liner Nea Hellas, her bow agape with several holes punctured in a harbor collision with a tanker, limped into port today from Lisbon, Portugal, with 500 Jewish refugees from 30 nations.

Two hours before, the 16,991-ton vessel had been in collision with the 5,356-ton Norwegian tanker Liliopa near Staten Island.

Witnesses said a large hole reaching from the waterline to the deck was torn in the bow of the tanker as the two vessels struck after vain manoeuvres to avert collision.

The 585 passengers aboard the Greek steamship poured out her decks as the impact shattered through the vessel. They soon were quieted. None was injured.

Outward bound, the empty tanker anchored following the crash.

Included in the refugees were 88 from France, 85 from Germany, and 56 from Poland.

On his first visit to America, Walter Strauss, 27-year-old grandson of the composer Johann Strauss, was accompanied by his wife, the French motion picture star, Maria Lynn.

George Kessel, former foreign correspondent for Paris Soir, told this anecdote of the absorption of the paper by the Germans: "The staff left the paper June 13. The Germans took it over the next day. An elevator operator hired by the paper 18 months before immediately was named chief editor of the paper by them. He was an Alsatian and a spy—a fifth columnist."

HOBOKEN, N.J. (AP)—Greek steamship line officials said the liner Nea Hellas was undamaged today after a collision with the Norwegian tanker Liliopa off quarantine. They said the steamship was proceeding to its Fifth Street docks.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Wheat buyers made minor purchases of October and December wheat futures at government fixed minimum levels of 73½ cents and 74½ cents a bushel, respectively, in a dull session of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. No export business was indicated.

At Chicago, wheat dropped ½ cent in sympathy with lower prices in other commodities. Buenos Aires was 1½ cent higher at noon.

Excellent demand for cash wheat sent spreads ¼ cent better on some of the lower grades.

Eastern interests gave some support to barley in the coarse grain pit and crushers showed interest in flax. Mills were taking some oats, but there was little interest in rye.

War Shares Suffer

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and other war shares carried the whole stock market lower again today after an optimistic opening boosted quotations a point or so.

No important volume developed on the early upturn and the hard-won advance withered away as traders sought resistance levels in a mild series of operations.

Among issues to fall farthest behind were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Caterpillar, Boeing, Douglas, United Aircraft, Sperry, Eastman, Johns-Manville, Allied Chemical, Dupont, General Electric, Kennecott, American Telephone, Standard Oil of N.J., and Great Northern preferred.

Bonds weakened with stocks. Among Canadian issues Distillers Seagram gained a fraction and Canadian Pacific lost as much while McIntyre and Hiram Walker rested unchanged. Canada 4, in the bond market, dipped ½ point.

LIKES ARMY LIFE IN ENGLAND

The life of a Canadian soldier in England is not bad at all, but rather to his liking, Gunner Dave Shepherd, formerly on the editorial staff of the Victoria Times, says in a cheery letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Shepherd, 349 Sylvia Street.

"The food situation here is O.K.," he writes. "I've never seen any shortage yet. You won't know me when I get back. I've trimmed down to 175 pounds. P.I. at 6 in the morning, and you can't get out of it. I thought I would not like to be tied down with army routine, but so far I have liked it."

An excellent accordionist, Dave finds much enjoyment in entertaining his pals with tunes and songs. "The Sarge said that I seem to keep the boys in good spirits by playing to them, and cutting up," he relates. "You know, half the battle is being cheerful, and it not only helps to pass the time, but it also keeps your thoughts away from other things less cheerful." Recently Dave played his accordion over the BBC.

KITE BARRAGE GEAR ON SS. CROMARTY

SAN PEDRO, Cal. (AP) — Its mast geared with kite barrage equipment, the British freighter Cromarty bunkered here bound for Vancouver, B.C., to load war essentials for England.

The Cromarty's crew shot down at least two bombers at Plymouth last July. The ship now is able to send up kites, attached to 15,000 feet of piano wire, as a protection against dive bombers.

Water Price Issue Argued

Seeks Oak Bay Rate Equivalent to City

Oak Bay is entitled to a water rate which will allow the municipality to sell water to its customers at a figure equivalent to that given similar consumers in the city and sufficient to provide for a self-sustaining system, F. L. Shaw, city solicitor, argued yesterday afternoon as he completed the city's case before the Public Utilities Commission sitting on the water rate question in the City Council Chambers.

Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman, presiding over the hearing with L. W. Patmore, K.C., and Major J. A. MacDonald, city engineer, Mr. Shaw on the presentation of his case.

Developing his argument on the price issue, Mr. Shaw declared that Oak Bay could seek a rate lower than that he suggested for two reasons only. Either the municipality wished to cut its price to consumers below the city rate — a policy which would be unfair competition — or it wished to make a profit to reduce ordinary taxation. The latter course would create illegal profits or would at least be contrary to the purposes for which municipal government was set up. It would result in imposition of discriminatory taxation — against that large part of the population which used water and would benefit unfairly the real estate owner who did not improve his holdings, council contended.

COMPARES REVENUES

He voiced those opinions after outlining the revenues received by the city and Oak Bay for water during the last three years. Oak Bay, using virtually one-sixth the water consumed in the city, showed a profit of $19,178 against the city's profit of $18,135 in 1937. The following year the municipality showed a similar gain while Victoria recorded a loss of over $40,000 owing to payment of that sum to the Esquimalt Waterworks company on account of principal, a payment not made the preceding year. Last year the Oak Bay profit had been $19,275 against the city's $8,682, he said.

Following the luncheon adjournment, Mr. Shaw cited the case of Oak Bay's offer to the golf club in that municipality to cut water rates to it to the same level the city had reduced rates to golf clubs in Victoria's jurisdiction, provided Victoria allowed the municipality a compensatory reduction.

He detailed commercial rates to industrial users, saying that while he did not think such sales should be eliminated from the gross amount on which the wholesale rate was struck, some adjustment should be made since Oak Bay, selling to no industrial plants, did not suffer from such rate depreciating agencies.

Mr. Shaw remarked the city could raise rates against laundrymen but that such action would be to the detriment of the community as a whole through increased laundry charges and might even result in forcing the laundries out of the community.

He answered previous charges by Oak Bay that certain of the Sooke Lake watershed property did not drain into the supply lakes and should not be charged against the water system. Expropriations had required purchase of the whole property, he said, adding the increased acreage kept the public at a distance from the water supply and decreased chances of impurity. In the case of a similar argument on the Goldstream system, he further added the extra territory was held in reserve.

In respect to Smith's Hill, which Oak Bay contended should not be included in the costs of the water system, Mr. Shaw stated that reservoir provided a necessary pressure booster as well as a small reserve and would be invaluable in case of conflagrations simultaneously on the Victoria waterfront and in Oak Bay.

In some detail he answered Oak Bay's contentions on the cost the city should charge against the Goldstream system as the result of the purchase of the Esquimalt Waterworks Company, and stated the refunding claim secured by the city was not aimed at relieving water users.

To support his case he filed a series of comparative figures on city and Oak Bay water expenditures and revenues, on city indebtedness caused by water system development, tables or requirements for sinking fund and other allied information.

In passing he said the city was over the hump, financially, on its waterworks indebtedness.

LEAKAGE TO BE FIXED

Mr. Shaw spoke of disagreements on consumption figures occasioned by leakage and suggested that for the purpose of the rate, Oak Bay should accept the city engineer's figures on a trial for a year. Within that time new meters would be installed which would correct any mistakes and permit adjustment.

Touching on Oak Bay's objection to Theis Lake being included in the city water system, Mr. Shaw stated it was still a stand-by source which could be brought into operation within 24 hours if other systems failed.

He dealt with costs of delivery from the Fountain Square distributing centre to the Oak Bay boundary, saying a new $129,000, main installed in 1932, with government assistance had cost the city about $90,000, had been used partly by the city but would shortly have to be turned over entirely to Oak Bay since it was draining the water tower on Rockland and destroying pressure in that region.

Earlier he had contended all costs of water should be borne by the parties concerned in a direct ratio to the benefits they received.

Mr. Shaw stressed the city's claims that Oak Bay should bear its share of the costs of financing the water systems from which it received its supply, should contribute not only towards interest and sinking fund involved, but also toward a contingency fund that might be required to meet an emergency and should recognize the necessity of reorganizing the machinery for fixing the wholesale price of water.

In respect to the latter point he said Victoria sold one-third of its water for $13,000 a year to the Empress Hotel, the Crystal Garden and the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company, three concerns from which Oak Bay secured as much benefit as did Victoria. Under the present arrangement the reduced industrial rates detracted from the city's wholesale price, Oak Bay, he said, took advantage of that reduction in securing a lower price and made no return to offset the benefits it secured from the institutions.

WANTS EQUAL BURDEN

The city recognized, he said, the fact that no rate to Oak Bay should be greater than city users should have to bear. No unequal burden was possible without detriment to both, he added.

For the last quarter-century Oak Bay had been thoroughly satisfied with the purity and quantity of the water it had received. The sole matter of dispute was price. From a survey of similar city-municipal relations throughout Canada he had determined no municipality in the Dominion received as favorable treatment as Oak Bay had from the city, he said.

He detailed the development of the existing water system from the tank wagon days of 1862 to the present, noting costs entailed in development of Elk Lake and Sooke Lake systems and in the purchase of the Esquimalt water works.

From there he traced legislation governing sale of water to Oak Bay by the city, reviewed disputes and court action on the matter ending in the recent Court of Appeal decision which left the rate question open and merely established the fact that the city was bound to supply water to Oak Bay and Oak Bay was bound to take it. In passing he noted the arbitration hearing of 1926 and its finding could not apply at present since Oak Bay admitted it required both Sooke and Esquimalt systems for supply now, whereas Sooke only had been considered at the earlier hearing.

Touching on the city's claim that Oak Bay should recognize Victoria's right to charge it for financing of the water system in a ratio compatible with Oak Bay's benefits, he remarked Oak Bay followed that course in charging its consumers.

If Oak Bay owned its own system it would reach its cost on a basis of interest, sinking fund requirements, administration, distribution and reserve requirements, he said.

The city, he said, was prepared to see Oak Bay benefit in rate reductions as the amounts outstanding against nondepreciable assets, such as the watershed property, were reduced and eventually removed.

He cited cases indicating Oak Bay's unwillingness to assist in preservation of the water supply through protection of the systems, although it was obvious Oak Bay would suffer with the city if the supply were disrupted.

In some detail he attacked the existing system of arriving at the wholesale price at Fountain Square, which he established as the central distributing point for the water.

CITY LOSES, OAK BAY GAINS

Dealing with that point he said Victoria's cheap rates for industrial and other concerns benefited Oak Bay. The municipality, he said, probably benefited more from the tourist industry encouraged by the Empress Hotel and the Crystal Garden than did Victoria itself. Not only did Oak Bay residents owning businesses in the city receive direct proceeds from that business, but the district also secured a large number of settlers attracted here through publicity work sponsored by the hotel which, in turn, was rewarded by the city through cheap water rates.

He traced in some detail the cheap water agreements with the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company inherited by the city from the Esquimalt Water Works, noting that in addition to the municipality enjoying the usual benefits of the industrial enterprise, 82 per cent of the common stockholders in the company resided in Oak Bay.

HURRAH KATE OUTSTANDING

gelding owned by the Victoria Riding Academy, Miss Pam Mitchell took honors in the road hack, judged for conformation, quality, substance, soundness and way of going. Mrs. Watney of Duncan on Nip placed second and Miss Rae of Duncan on Buckskin Bob third.

With a perfect performance Hurrah Kate took the event for lightweight hunters. O.m.a.r., brown gelding owned by the Victoria Riding Academy and ridden by Miss M. Hogg was second and Rob Roy, with J. A. McPherson up was third.

The natural jump course over four fences saw Hurrah Kate again carry off the coveted red ribbon. Midnight, owned and ridden by J. A. Hayes was second and Chenango, owned by the Victoria Riding Academy, and ridden by Mrs. D. Sutherland, Vancouver, third.

Honors in the pleasure horse class went to Banner, owned and ridden by Mrs. J. Whittle, Vancouver. Leland, owned by R. Steenson and ridden by Mrs. D. B. Hudson placed second and Nip, owned by R. Stralendorf, Duncan, and ridden by Mrs. Watney third.

In the children's riding class Banner, ridden by Miss S. Stewart was the winner; Top Notch ridden by Miss S. Francis second and Allegro ridden by Miss M. Ford third.

The competition for six-horse team driving provided its usual thrill for the spectators with Robert Thorburn guiding C. L. Worthington's Clydesdales from Chilliwack to victory over the only other entry, Charles Gordon, Carstairs, Alta.

Shrine band was in attendance to enliven the show while members of the Victoria Riding Academy sold chocolates and ice cream, donated by George Irvine of Vancouver to the Red Cross.

Dr. M. Sparrow acted as judge; W. Beck as clerk, and Gordon Harris as ringmaster. The show was under the management of Don Carley.

Feature of tonight's show, starting at 8.15, will be the novelty hunter course, patterned along the lines of a popular event at last year's show at Madison Square Garden, New York.

Burrards Win Lacrosse Title

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver Burrards are the 1940 Inter-city Box Lacrosse League champions — the first Vancouver team to hold the title since 1935. Burrards put an end to New Westminster's three-year reign of supremacy in the league when they pushed the Canadian champion New Westminster Adanacs out of the title picture by a 13 to 8 count in the fifth game of the best-of-seven final here last night. St. Helen's, now known as Richmond Farmers, was the last Vancouver team to win the title. They also won the provincial crown, but were ousted from the Canadian playdowns by Orillia Terriers. North Shore Indians won the title in 1936, New Westminster Salmonbellies in 1937 and Adanacs in 1938 and 1939.

Further, it appeared as though their employment with the Yanks might be jeopardized over the city.

Now, they have found themselves and are ready to take their turns with Red Ruffing, Marius Russo, Spud Chandler and Bonham. This gives the McCarthy-men six starters, with Lefty Gomez and Monte Pearson still with possibilities.

Whatever the Yanks lack in a desperate attempt to overhaul the Cleveland Indians, it doesn't look as though it'll be pitchers.

All of which is rather encouraging for the fifth straight flag. The old-time dynamite was exploding all over the place while the Yanks were making their drive toward the top. From where they stand, it just looks like a couple of stiff three-base pokes to first place.

Island Division of the Provincial Police reported death of Jack Spruceman, working for the Industrial Timber Mills Ltd. at Youbou, Cowichan Lake, Monday. Spruceman slipped and fell from a logging train at a loading depot. Death followed fracture at the base of the skull.
